ACORN 1986-87

Completed in 1939, J.L. Moran Hall is the only building on campus that has served as the chapel, the auditorium, classrooms, faculty and administrative offices, student center and health services. This building having served many diverse functions for the college stands as a symbol of the diversity, and the unified spirit of Oakwood College.

OAKWOOD COLLEGE HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA VOLUME THIRTY-FOUR

The Flags of Many Nations

The flags that wave proudly in front of the Eva B. Dykes Library represent the many nations from which our students come. Oakwood College is the epitome of unity and diversity, serving as a melting pot for people from various parts of the world.

New Beginnings

"New Beginnings" at Oakwood College started on Sunday, September 21, 1986, with the inauguration of Dr. Benjamin F. Reaves as the ninth president of Oakwood College. Faculty, staff, and students gathered together while guests came from around the nation for the celebration.

Elder Neal C. Wilson, president of The General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, presented the inaugural address and offered the encouragement, "We have today, tomorrow, and God's promises."

As President Reaves accepted the mantle of responsibility, he pledged to bring sensitivity to Oakwood's students and "perception enough to see God's plan for each of their lives."

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dr. Ernest Boyer of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching states, "A church-related college has a special obligation to interpret and extend the heritage of the church and if this function can no longer be effectively fulfilled its central mission has been lost."

Your experience during the past year as recorded in these pages proves that Oakwood College is true to its central mission of extending the heritage of the church. Through classes, lectures, worship services, outreach ministries, Christian fellowship, every aspect of campus life you have been taught faith in God and reverence for Him, loyalty to high ideals, commitment to a worthy cause and the need to serve mankind.

With the passing of this school year comes the challenge to go from "Today's College to be Tomorrow's Leaders" keeping in mind those who are chosen as leaders are first proven and trusted as servants.

Dr. Benjamin F. Reaves

Diversity in Student Interest

Unity in Student Life

Who ever said that learning can't be fun?

Dedication

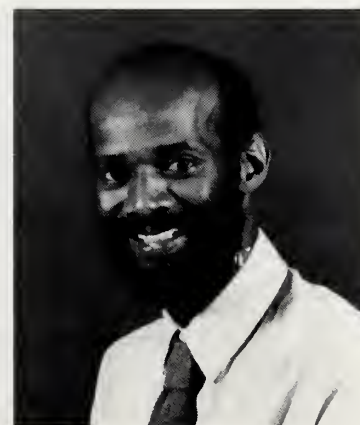

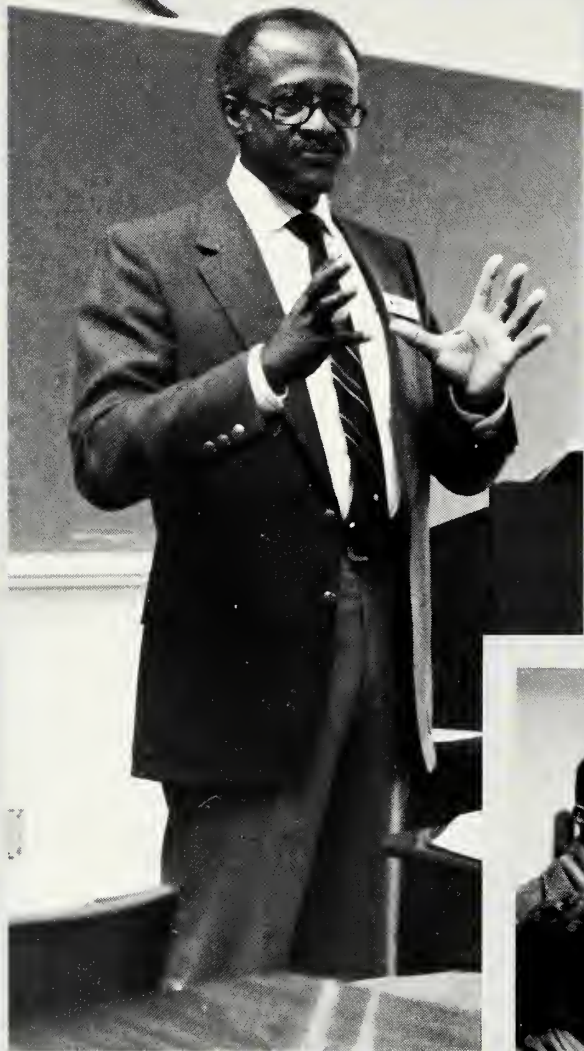

This year's book is dedicated to Mr. Anthony David Paul, professor in the Biology department. Mr. Paul takes a great interest in the student's well being. His work in the biology department as well as other areas has helped a good many students gain knowledge and understanding in their field of study and life's goal. Not only is Mr. Paul helpful to science students, but he is involved in activities around the campus.

Mr. Paul played aggressively on the flag football team in the fall, he is the sponsor of the Science Club (one of the most active clubs on campus), he also was one of the sponsors of the sophomore class, and the ACORN yearbook.

During the Valentine's banquet, Mr. Paul served faculty, administrators, and students alike as a waiter for our banquet.

Mr. Paul also was instrumental in starting two more clubs on campus—the Oakwood Speleological Society (Caving Club), and a community outreach club that did more than minister to the spiritual needs, but those of physical also. After seeing all that Mr. Paul has done for the students and in appreciation of his patience we say to Mr. Paul, paraphrasing a familiar slogan, "For all you've done, this one's for you!"

DEPARTMENTS

Department of Behavioral Sciences

The objective of this program is to acquaint the student with the principles, fact, approaches and methods of the discipline: to provide him with an understanding of Psychology and Social work and that of others. The department aims to provide a good understanding of human adjustive behavior, of how societies, communities and groups are organized and maintained and how the behavior of the individual is related to that of the group. It also seeks to introduce the student to the concepts and methods used in Psychological and Sociological research.

Department of Biology

The Department is interested with providing its students both the breadth of understanding and the opportunity to explore many areas in biology in greater depth. The required courses and cognates in the concentration establish a core of fundamental knowledge in biological and related science. Students then build on this base from a variety of other courses, laboratory, and discussions that explore areas within biology from the basic level to current research topics. The development of laboratory and fieldwork skills is encouraged. The major in biology prepares students for immediate employment as well as for professional training in medicine and biomedical research.

Business & Information Systems

The aim of the Business and Information Systems Department is to provide a technical, liberal, and ethical education which will equip young men and women with the skills and knowledge necessary for careers in the Seventh-day Adventist Church; government service, or private industry. Furthermore, it is hoped that students graduating from this department will be able to adapt and adjust to the many changes that are taking place in the environment.

Some years ago, the department embarked upon a development and refinement process. We believe that our new curriculum is working in that our graduates are finding that they can compete successfully with students from other institutions.

With the new curriculum in place, we are now turning our attention to the development of an entrepreneurial spirit among our students. Our course in Entrepreneurship, and our bakery and snackbar projects all help students to develop a positive attitude toward starting their own businesses upon graduation.

Department of Chemistry

The pursuit of academic excellence in the teaching of chemistry continues to be the primary focus of the various programs and activities in the Department of Chemistry. Excellence in chemical education carries a price tag that cannot be discounted. It requires EXCELLENCE IN FACULTY, EXCELLENCE IN STUDENTS, EXCELLENCE IN CURRICULUM, EXCELLENCE IN FACILITIES, EXCELLENCE IN SUPPORT SERVICES, and an atmosphere of enthusiasm for learning.

It is important to realize that the formidable challenge facing all chemistry departments today is the urgent and continuing need to maintain a quality program of chemical education that is RIGOROUS IN INTENSITY,

Department Head: Dr. David Richardson

COMPREHENSIVE IN SCOPE, AND RELEVANT TO THE CURRENT TRENDS IN "STATE-OF-THE-ART" TECHNOLOGIES.

The importance of adequate chemical instrumentation in the teaching of modern chemistry cannot be overemphasized. We must never forget the observation made by Alfred North Whitehead who said that IT IS NOT THAT WE HAVE BETTER PERCEPTION THAN THE ANCIENT GREEKS, ONLY BETTER INSTRUMENTATION.

The impressive track record of Oakwood Chemistry alumni in completing doctoral degrees in medicine, dentistry, chemistry, and other disciplines has brought national and international recognition to the chemistry program at Oakwood College. It is felt that this is the major factor in bringing students to Oakwood College who major in chemistry. Therefore, everything possible must be done to continue to improve the quality of chemical education at Oakwood College.

Dr. Henry McBay, professor Emeritus-Emory University, UNCF professor at large

Department of Education

The Education Department at Oakwood College has early roots in the college's historically black tradition. By 1905, the name of the Oakwood Industrial School, established in 1896, had been changed to Oakwood Manual Training School. The stated objective of the Industrial School was to educate worthy young men and women of color in lines of moral, mental and physical culture for the practical duties of life. This focus was broadened to include the training of teachers.

At the present time, Teacher Education at Oakwood College is approved by the Seventh-day Adventist General Conference Department of Education, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, and the Alabama State Department of Education. The department is an institutional member of the American Association for Colleges of Teacher Education and operates programs with standards approved by the National Association of State Department of Directors of Teacher Education and Certification.

"To restore in (its students) the image of (their) maker" has been and remains the aim of the department. This emphasis is reflected in course syllabi, instructional activities and interaction with students in various aspects of college life. The department prepares students for graduate study in education, related fields, and for church and public school certification, re-throughout North America.

Baccalaureate degrees in denominational and state approved programs, are offered in early childhood education and elementary education. Secondary programs are anchored by subject area members of the Teacher Education Council. The secondary programs are biology, business and office education, chemistry, English and language arts, history and social science, home economics, and mathematics. Instrumental and vocal/choral music are offered at the pre-school through high school level. Religious education is denominationally accredited. A state approved minor is offered in physical education and a major in cooperation with A and M University.

Over the last Five years, the students who have graduated from our Teacher Education programs have gained employment or enrolled in graduate schools upon completion.

Department of English, Communications, Foreign Languages and Art

Seated: Kyna Hinson, Bernard Benn, Evelyn Tucker
Standing: David Persons, Annette Michael, Oliver Davis, Ursula Benn, Ted Rivers

The Department of English, Communications, Foreign Languages and Art exists for two main purposes: (a) to provide service courses for all students, and (b) to offer associate degrees in art and communications, bachelor degrees in communications, English, and English education, and provide courses for the bachelor's of general studies degree. The department serves the entire institution by helping all students to develop skills in reading, writing, listening, viewing, and speaking—skills which students need as prerequisites for mastery of other subject fields. In addition to being a service department, the Department of English, Communications, Foreign Languages and Art offers the following programs: Bachelor of Arts in English, Bachelor of Science in English Education, Bachelor of Arts in Communications, Bachelor of General Studies (with partial concentration in English and/or Communications), Associate of Science in Commercial Art, Associate of Science in Communications, Minor in English, Minor in Communications, Minor in Art.

Department of History

The Department of History and Political Science comprises areas of study in the various fields of history, political science and geography. Courses are geared to meet the questions of the past and problems of the contemporary world in areas of American, Latin American, European and African History, as well as the development of the Christian church. Political science courses are built around the varied concepts of government, diplomatic relationships and international viewpoints. Geography consists of a survey of physical and cultural relationships.

Department of Home Economics

The Department of Home Economics at Oakwood College was established at the inception of the College in the 1800's. It has grown from courses in cooking and sewing to include courses that relate to all facets of family life. These courses include human development and family living, textiles and clothing selection, interior design, fashion merchandising, parent-child relations, nutrition, diet therapy, consumer economics and preschool environments.

The philosophy of the College, which emphasizes the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers of the student, is an integral part of the curriculum of Home Economics. The ultimate goal of the Department is to provide educational experiences for men and women to help them understand the vital forces that impact upon all family members so that good interrelationships will develop and grow throughout the life cycle as negative and positive variables influence each individual. Also an additional goal is to equip men and women with career skills that will help them find meaningful and gainful employment in the many areas offered in this discipline. Students are prepared to adapt to a changing world and encouraged to keep abreast with technological changes through continuous education after education.

The Home Economics Department is fully certified by the State Department of Education. It is also accredited by the American Dietetics Association for the Plan IV Program, and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Department of Mathematics and Physics

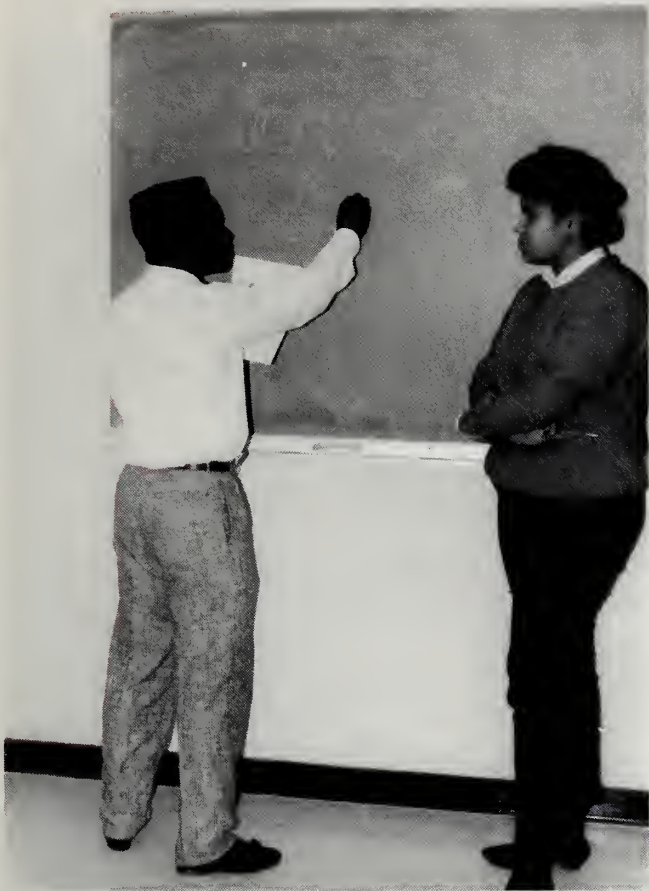

The objective of the Department of Mathematics/Physics at Oakwood College is to provide a variety of courses which offer a background for the study of the Natural Sciences and Business Administration, and an extensive program in pure and applied mathematics for students preparing for graduate work in mathematics, teaching at the secondary level, or assuming careers in industry. The department offers three degree programs—the B.A. in Mathematics, the B.S. in Mathematics Education, and the B.A. in Mathematics and Computer Science. A minor in physics is also available.

Dedicated, competent and concerned teachers contribute to an atmosphere conducive to learning mathematics and physics. Mathematics majors with upper class standing form a core of departmental tutors and readers. A limited number of these positions are available each year depending on satisfactory academic period. The faculty of the department is varied in training and background, and teach in areas which reflect their strengths.

Seated: John A. Blake
Standing: Lewis Thompson, Kathleen Dobbins, Gracie Monroe

Department of Music

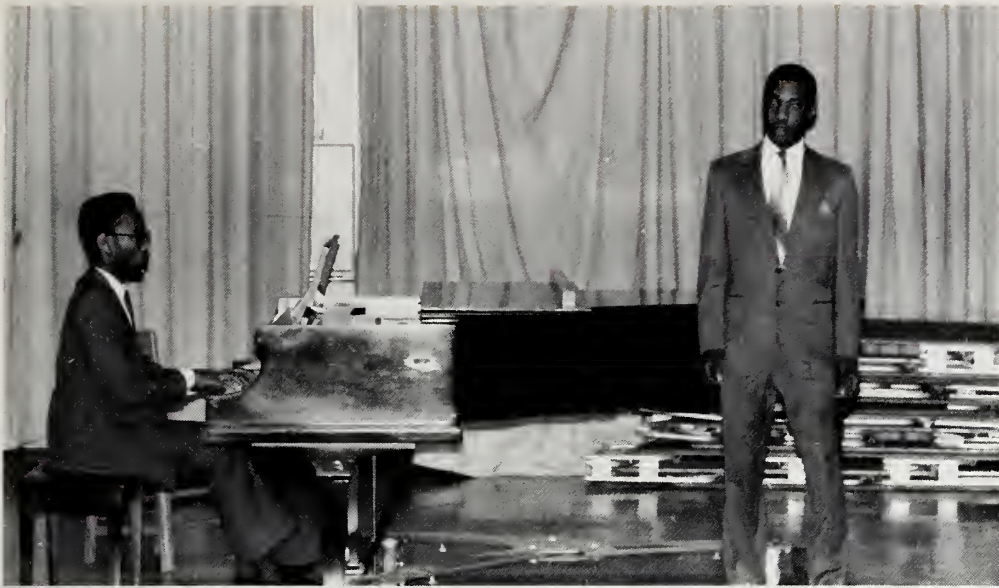

Standing: Shirley Beary, Lucille Lacy, Seated: John Dennison (head)

The Music Department's primary purpose is to train and develop talented youth for careers in performance and teaching. In addition to providing general education, our objectives continue to be shaped by the quality and quantity of talent that matriculates in our department.

The objective of preparing individuals to be of service to humanity through various fields of music, is reached through the teaching of courses designed not only to develop an intelligent and appreciative attitude toward music, but also to guide students to serve as teachers, ministers of music, performers, and musical leaders in Christian service.

The Music Department provides a challenging, professional, intellectual, and Christian environment for the serious study of the musical arts. Students who are committed to developing their talents to the highest for service to God and to humanity are encouraged to apply.

Nursing Department

In the Department of Nursing, students learn to become competent practitioners of nursing. The curriculum is based on knowledge from the natural, behavioral, and social sciences, the humanities, and nursing. Students gain clinical experiences in real and simulated situations where they are expected to apply the theory learned in the classroom.

Individuals who would like a stimulating and challenging education are invited to come and share an adventure in excellence. The benefits of joining the most fascinating, meaningful, rewarding, giving profession are endless.

We'll demand your best and give you our best!

Department of Physical Education

Oakwood College and Alabama A&M University have entered into an agreement whereby Oakwood students may enroll in a two-year Pre-Physical Education Program at Oakwood College, and a two-two and one-half years of the Physical Education concentration at Alabama A&M University.

Oakwood College's Physical Education Department offers student training in the physical as well as mental development. The insights and experiences gained in the physical education course can be taken and used throughout life.

Department of Religion & Theology

The role of the Department of Religion and Theology in the future growth of the Church in general and the Black church in particular remains a matter of crucial importance. The challenge of working in the Master's vineyard until He finishes the work remains sharply focused as the department trains Black Leaders for both the Regional work and the work of the church at large. The department offers majors in Religion, Theology, and Religious Education. Other fields of study include minors in Theology, Religion, and Biblical languages, an associate degree in Bible instructorship, and a certificate in Church Leadership for paraprofessionals.

The department maintains an unwavering commitment to its specific objectives which are: To present the Bible as the written word of God, as the self-revelation of God, and as the infallible rule of faith and practice for Christians. To apply biblical, theological, and historical methodologies in the teaching of the Bible. To teach the Christian faith as believed and taught by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. To help students cultivate a love for the Christian life-style of Seventh-day Adventists. To prepare students for ministerial or teaching positions and/or related career options. To prepare students for the responsibility of critically examining issues with a confidence born in the stability of Adventist teachings. To provide theoretical instruction and practical experiences that will encourage students for graduate school and beyond.

WORLD EVENTS

Tragedies

The Nation mourned the loss of the Challenger seven after the explosion of NASA's space shuttle mission 51-L. The two solid rocket boosters of the shuttle exploded shortly after liftoff. The cause of the January 28 tragedy was a result of human error.

The Townsend-Thorsen ferry, "Herald of Free Enterprise," capsized after leaving the Belgian port of Zeebrugge in early March. Approximately 143 people died while 405 survived the accident.

A drought spread throughout the Southeast during 1986. It was the worst dry spell on record, with daytime high temperatures in many areas exceeding 100 degrees. At the peak of the drought, crops wilted from Southern Pennsylvania all the way into northern Florida. Even after some rain, many farmers in the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia were on the brink of ruin.

Deep under Lake N'Gos in northwestern Cameroon, the earth belched. A bubble of scalding gas rose to the surface and the wind carried it across the land. Within minutes, more than 1700 people were dead, burned by steam and choked by carbon dioxide and toxic gases. Among the casualties was a large group of cows.

Thirty-seven U.S. servicemen died in May 1987 when the U.S.S. Stark was mistakenly attacked and struck by two cruise missiles from an Iraqi war plane. The ship was stationed in the Persian Gulf, there as a part of U.S. peacekeeping efforts.

Deaths of Notable Persons

Several individuals of notoriety died during this past year. Clarinetist Benny Goodman, known as the "King of Swing" who helped to usher in the Big Band era died at 77. 50's teen idol Ricky Nelson died at 45 years of age. He started in "The Adventures of Ozzy and Harriet," T.V.'s longest running family sitcom. Handsome leading man Cary Grant died at 82 after starring in over 72 films. "Wild Kingdom's" Marlin Perkins died at 82 after hosting the well loved television program for 23 years. James Cagney, one of Hollywood's famous tough-guys died. Another to die was Ted Knight, best known for his role in the television series "The Mary Tyler Moore Show." Also singer Kate Smith who popularized the song "God Bless America," former CIA director William Casey, concert pianist Liberace and fashion designer Willi Smith. America's first teacher in space, Mrs. Christa McAuliffe died in the Space Shuttle Challenger disaster along with Ron McNair and the rest of the crew of the Challenger.

On a note a little closer to home, two individuals who touched the heart of Oakwood died. Dr. Eva B. Dykes died quietly here in Huntsville. The first black woman to receive a doctorate degree, spent her years here at Oakwood in a devoted career towards educating students. Mr. Harry Dobbins, also known as "Uncle Harry," was an inspiration to Oakwood College. Through his many poems he inspired many of our students through the years.

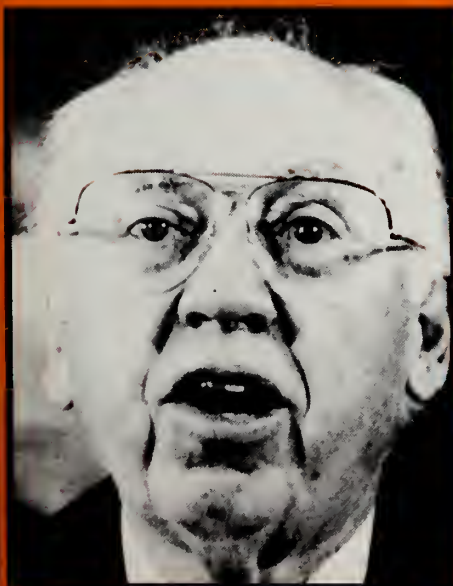

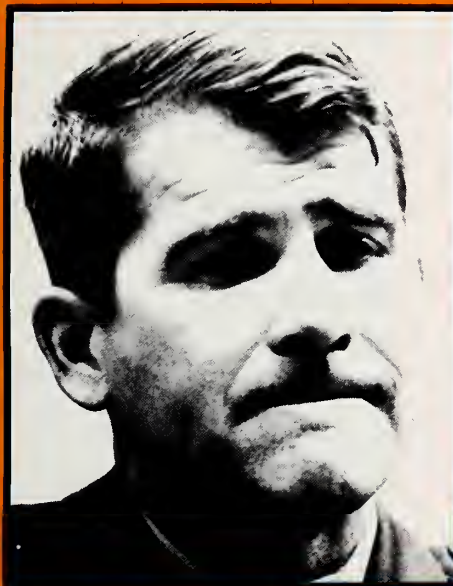

Politics

President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Michail Gorbachev met in Reykjavik, Iceland, for a two-day summit in October to discuss arms control. The two leaders reached an impasse on testing of the U.S. Star Wars Weaponry.

The president signed into law in October, the broadest tax overhaul in a generation. The bill cut taxes for most workers, while paring some prized deductions and boosting the tax burden on corporations. Representative Dan Rostenkowski, an Illinois Democrat, headed the House tax overhaul delegation and Senator Bob Packwood, an Oregon Republican, headed the delegation from the House.

The Iran-Contra affair was the biggest story in political news this year. In an arms for aid deal, it was discovered that weapons made by the U.S. had been secretly sold to the Iranians in exchange for funds used to support the contras fighting in Nicaragua. Senate hearings are being held that mirror those of Watergate 14 years ago. A number of individuals are on trial to testify as to how much they actually knew about the scandal. Lt. Col. Oliver North, who oversaw the Iran Contra operation is to testify to let the Senate know what happened, and who was behind it. National Security adviser John Poindexter was North's boss. Donald Regan, Reagan's former Chief of Staff, has sought to prove that he had little or nothing to do with the arms deal. CIA director William Casey is thought to have helped the contras receive the aid from the sales, since the CIA has dealings in Nicaragua. Above all the scandal, President Reagan has claimed to have known nothing about these dealings. In the trial and in the months following, the court hopes to determine just how much involvement the president and others did have in this sale of weapons to Iran.

International Events

In response to Libyan-backed terrorism, U.S. Air Force and Navy jets attacked five targets inside Libya under cover of darkness on April, 1986, delivering a response to what President Reagan called, the "monstrous brutality" of terrorism. Among the targets were the Libyan Naval Academy, located in a suburb of Tripoli, and Libyan leader Muammar Kaddafi's home.

In France, "The Butcher", Klaus Barbie was brought to trial to face charges on "crimes against humanity" committed by him during World War II. Barbie, known as "The Butcher of Lyons", was captain of the SS Einsatzkommando at Lyons between 1942 and 1944. He captured, tortured and deported hundreds of Frenchmen to the Nazi camps.

Also Austrian President Kurt Waldheim was put on a U.S. government watch list as a conclusion to a probe by the Justice Department's Office of Special Investigations which compiled a 200-page report on Waldheim's activities in the German Army.

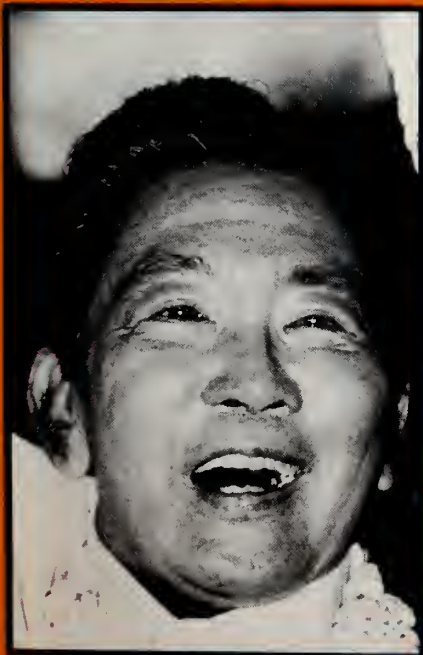

Gennadiy Zakharov, a Soviet U.N. employee was arrested on a subway platform in New York City and charged with spying. A week later, American journalist, Nicholas S. Daniloff, was arrested on the streets of Moscow and accused of spying on the Soviet Union. Born men were released within weeks and the whole affair set the stage for a Super Power Summit meeting in Iceland.

Two Arab terrorists stormed Istanbul's main synagogue on September 6, killing more than 20 worshippers with submachine-gun fire. When police arrived, the terrorists detonated hand grenades and killed themselves.

After 20 years of ruling without serious challenge, Phillipine president Ferdinand Marcos was forced from office amid charges of corruption and scandal. The new president Corazon Aquino, was faced with political and economic turmoil.

In the Spotlight

In the spotlight this past year was The Lady—The Statue of Liberty. To celebrate her 100th birthday, she received a 75 million dollar makeover. Her new look was unveiled on July 4, 1986 after two years' work of restoring her. The day's festivities included 28 minutes of fabulous fireworks and the releasing of 5,000 homing pigeons. The commemorative celebration was observed by over 6 million onlookers.

In the headlines almost daily, was the dreaded, fatal disease AIDS. The AIDS virus enters the bloodstream and permanently weakens the immune system. Studies have shown that one to two million people harbor the virus while another 15,000 lost their lives to it last year.

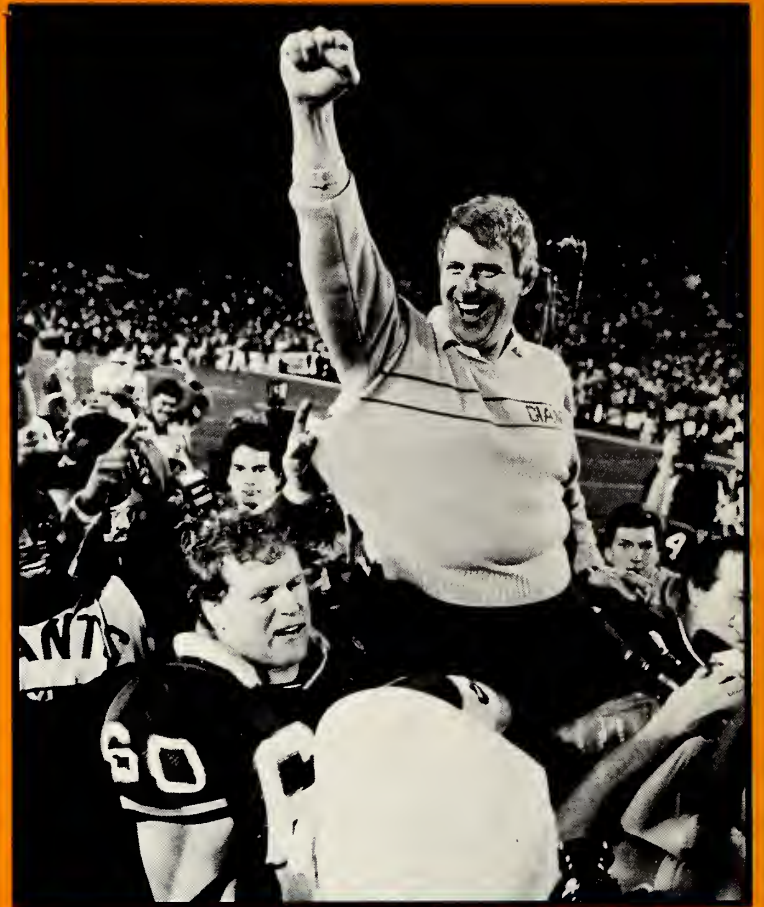

They call it "crack" on the East Coast and "rock" on the West Coast. Whatever its' name, this refined smokable form of cocaine may be the most addictive narcotic ever sold on the streets of America. This dangerous drug has caused a number of tragic deaths, a more notable one in that of the death of the Boston Celtics' first round draft pick, Len Bias, from the University of Maryland, just three days after the NBA draft.

Caroline Kennedy, who captured America's heart as a little girl, romping through the White House, married Edwin Schlossberg, a New York businessman and artist in Hyannis Port, Massachusetts on July 19, 1986. Four days later across the Atlantic, a most elegant wedding took place. Britain's Prince Andrew tied the knot with the 26 year old Sarah Ferguson.

In a bit of pagentry, Miss Kellye Cash, the grandniece of country star Johnny Cash, was crowned Miss America 1987. She received the crown from outgoing Miss America Susan Akin.

Year in Sports

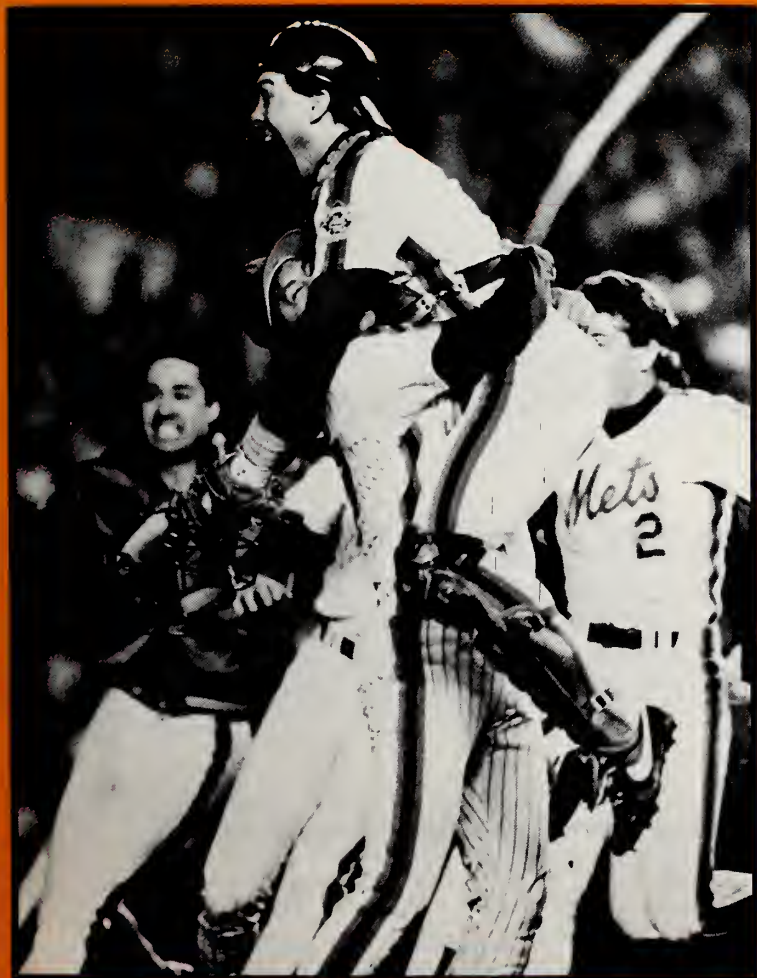

This year in sports was marked by some exciting challenges and triumphs. The New York Mets won the pennant by defeating the Boston Red Sox 6-5 in the 7th game of the World Series. The New York Giants defeated the Denver Broncos 39-20 at Super Bowl XXI in Pasadena, California.

In a look at college sports, we saw the Penn State Nittany Lions defeat the Miami Hurricanes for the National title. Also the Indiana Hoosiers claimed the NCAA basketball title in an exciting game against the Syracuse Orangemen.

Hailed as the "fight of the century," "Sugar" Ray Leonard defeated "Marvelous" Marvin Hagler in a 15 round bout for the WBC middle weight title. The America's Cup title was reclaimed by California skipper, Dennis Conner in sailing the "Stars and Stripes" to victory over Australia's Kookaburra in a 4-0 victory.

Finally we came to the NBA World Championship in which the Los Angeles Lakers crushed the former World Champion Boston Celtics in an exciting 106-93 game to end the best of seven series 4-2 in the 6th game.

Gregory Hunt and Angie Harrison share some time between classes.

There are a variety of jobs available on campus, Chris Willis donates some of his time to grounds.

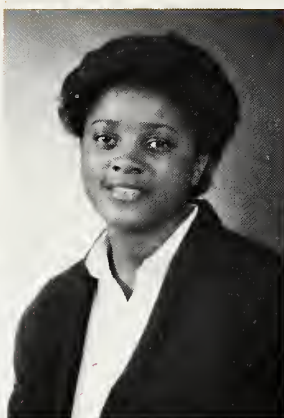

Its not often so easy to laugh after leaving the cafe, but Varlarie Morris, Liz Cannon, Sharna Greentree and Elaine Albury show that it is possible.

After a long day at the Science Club retreat, Charmaine Blake, Lovina Brown, Melissa Scarlett and Ardis Morton pause before heading back to the dorm.

Showing itself to be one of the most active clubs on campus this year, the Science Club provided a number of activities for students. Under the able and active leadership of its president, Carla Braxton, the Science Club strove to provide information and activities to the student body.

Almost weekly the club had speakers come to the school to lecture on various topics ranging from high blood pressure to right to life issues. In addition to providing students with opportunities to learn more about the world around them, the Science Club gave students a chance to meet those people they may need to know in the future. Students in pre-professional science programs were given the opportunity to have "mock" interviews with representatives and admissions officers from schools as far away as Harvard and Loma Linda University medical schools.

Providing spiritual as well as social alternatives, the Science Club sponsored a number of trips and activities. The club put on a roller skating party at our own skating rink, provided an opportunity for students to go ice skating and had a Sabbath retreat at Sarah Johnson State Park just to mention a few of the activities.

In addition to providing for the student body, the club members were able to take a few trips on their own, one of which was a trip to Morehouse Medical School in Atlanta, Georgia in which the members traveled without charge. Another trip was taken by the members to Huntsboro, Alabama in a type of outreach program for one weekend. In addition to having a successful year as a club, the Epsilon Phi Delta Scientific Society provided unity among the student body as well as its club members.

Acorn Staff 1986-87

Getting the job done, Jenee Bowman, Yvette Hackett, Debby Small and Fred Goodman show that there is fun in work.

Not only must a photographer take good photos, he must also be able to look good in a photo as is seen here by Mark Cooper.

Showing us that a photo assignment can be just as much fun as work, Tina Scurry enjoys the hayride.

AYS & AYS Comes

The Friday Night AYS program provides the students with an interesting way of enjoying the new Sabbath hours. Not only are students mentally entertained, they are also spiritually filled. During the week the AYS Comes committee carries vitality to the dorms by providing a welcome alternative to the regular worship programs. Fostering and maintaining the spiritual unity of the diverse needs of the campus is a fundamental goal performed by these committees.

Wes Chism meekly waits to be rejected by Carmela Monk, Program Director, in a skit about registration.

Janice Chandler and Joel McPhee perform a soulful rendition of "In This Very Room" to a mesmerized AYS crowd.

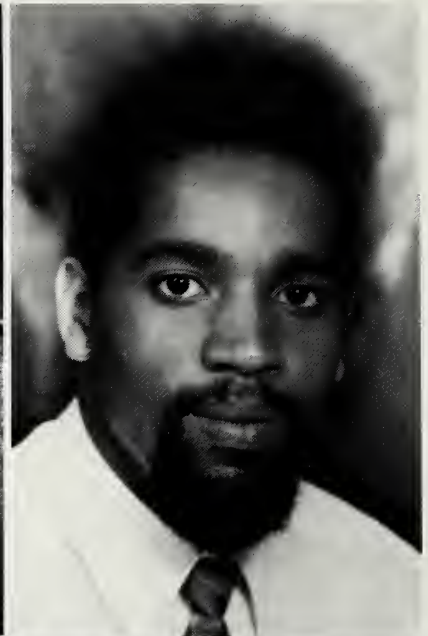

Top: With rapt attention, the crowd listens to the speaker present his thought.

Doing what they do best, the AYS Comes committee presents an enjoyable program.

Oakwood College Aeolians

Keeping up the tradition of excellence in quality, variety and performance of music at home and abroad, was the challenge met and mastered by the 1986-87 Aeolian Choir. This select group, under the direction of Dr. John Dennison and with the aid of student assistants Kevin Long and Lloyd Mal-lory, thrilled the hearts of audiences from Huntsville, the "Rocket City" all the way to our Nation's Capitol.

An individualist indeed, Dr. Dennison's renditions of some old favorites as well as his introduction of some newer concepts into the repertoire of his group perked many an interest and elicited a gamut of responses.

The highlight of the Aeolian's sea-son was Jubilee II, the sequel to last year's celebration of Negro Spirituals. These memborable performances will ever be impressed in the memory of Oakwood College.

Oakwood College Choir

Hubbard

The Oakwood College Choir under the directance of Euridice Osterman has once again completed a successful year. Despite the fact that Ms. Osterman was in school full time pursuing her doctorate degree, she still managed to lead the choir with the aid of student directors and have it excel in its works.

In addition to performing around the state of Alabama, the choir took a memorable trip to New York City. Singing to a sellout crowd, the choir performed a number of songs that ranged from classical to spiritual.

Overall the College Choir was well received in the "Big Apple".

A major accomplishment of the choir this year was that they recorded an album. The dedication and unity of the choir was exemplified by the fact that the choir did not go to the studio until after the 1986-87 school year had ended. Under the continued dedicated leadership and directance of Ms. Osterman along with the dedication of the choir members, the Oakwood College Choir promises to have continued future success.

SPORTS

Flag Football

A Year in Sports

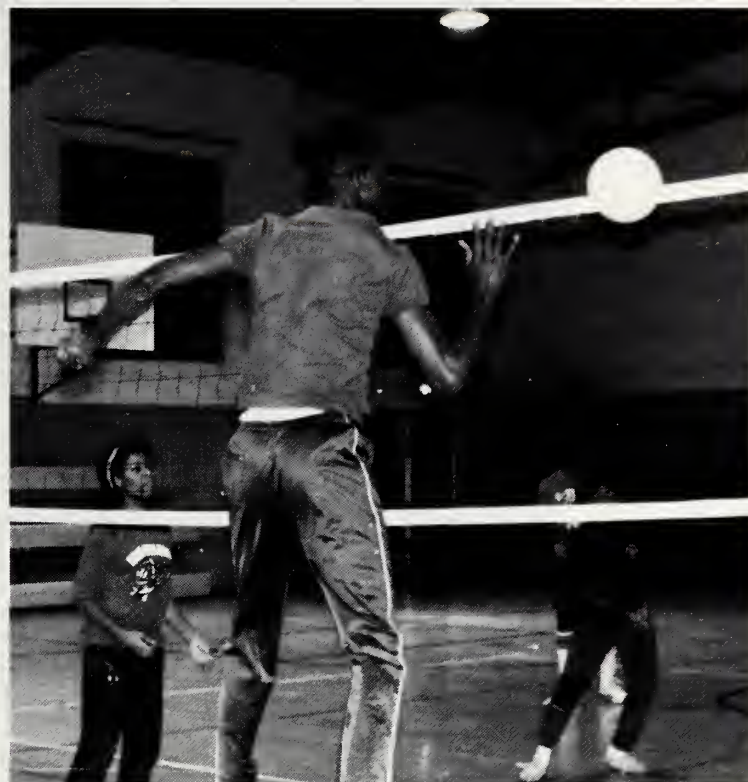

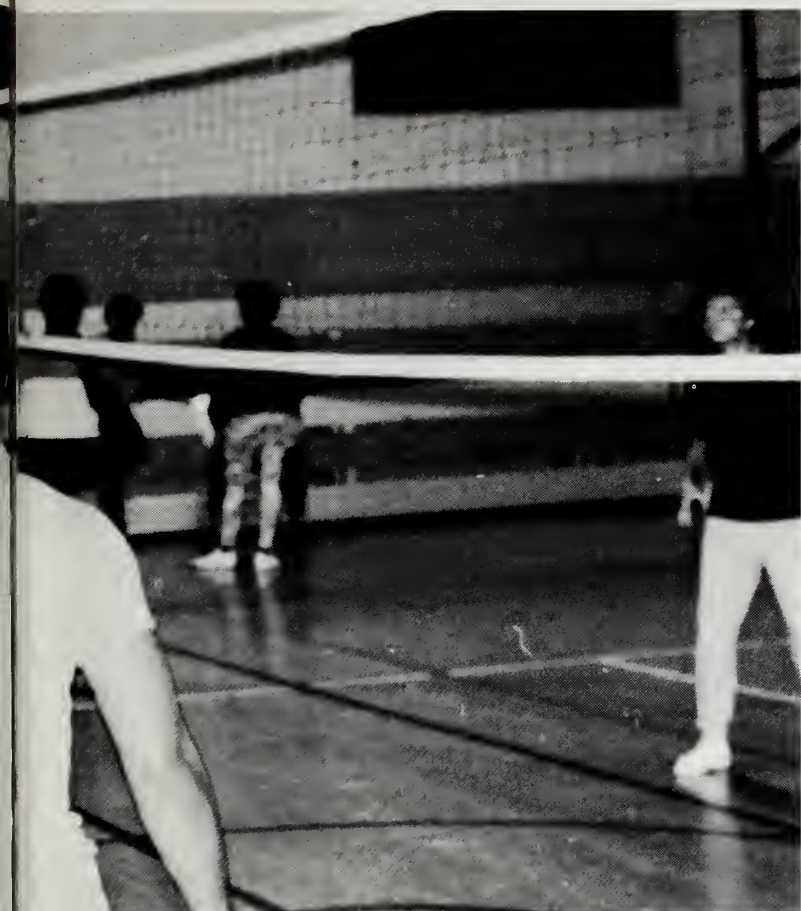

Well, there was plenty to cheer about this year with Trina Petty being the first lady to serve as Athletic Vice-President. What a fine job!

In football this year, we saw razzle-dazzle at its best. The diving catches of the receivers, the scrambling moves of the quarterbacks and the blistering speed of the running backs were all ingredients for a great season. When the season was finally over, Milton Brown's team was the victors! Oh! We must not forget Walter Arnold's "Walt's Fearless Forecast". His predictions were better than Jimmy the Greek's.

Volleyball

Co-ed Volleyball was fun for everyone. It does not really matter how tall you are, just as long as you can hit the ball over the net. Then again, if you can not play, dress like you can and maybe you will be able to get a date after the game!

Men's Basketball

Great basketball talent is part of the tradition here at Oakwood College. This year the addition of a three point line made the game even more exciting. Offense is the first thing you think about in the league and we saw plenty of it. Eddie Turner is the only man I know of to get eight dunks in one game! Who's the best, Tim Lewis or Benny Browne? I don't know, but they both scored whenever they wanted and both are winners. When it came to defense Mark Cooper was the best—no question about it.

Prayer played a very important role for the team called "New Birth". They weren't the tallest or fastest players, they were mostly theology majors! Shots went in that had to be assisted by an angel. To make a long story short, this style of play continued all the season and they won the championship.

Women's Basketball

The women showed us another side of basketball I didn't know existed. Fouls, blocked shots and just plain old hustling made the game exciting. The short but exciting season had Trina Petty's team as the victors.

Softball

In softball there was an increase in home runs just like in the major leagues. Double plays, diving catches and throwing the runner out can make any player a hero. The worst thing that can happen to a man is striking out in slow-pitch softball and we saw plenty of it! If some of the games would have been video taped, we could have had our "bloops and blunders" video. The season finished in dramatic form as Ron Taylor's team walked away with the championship.

To all those who came close but fell short, there is always next year!

Spectators

An essential part of any sport is the spectator. In basketball, the spectators are often called the "Sixth man". In professional sports, it's the spectators that keep the business going. Here at O.C. the spectators are who keep the team going.

Many teams and players can testify that when they had the fans cheering behind them, they seemed to play better. The fans are often the Secret weapon of many teams that enable them to defeat the opposition. We saw a few examples of this weaponry in action this year. Remember the game of O.C. vs. Southern The Secret weapon rolled into the Southern College gym and wielded itself upon the ...

... opposition to aid in the victory of the O.C. Allstars. Not only does the Secret weapon work for us, it works for others too. A game we'd like to forget, the pre-freshmen vs. the freshmen during College •Days. In that game, the pre-freshmen's Secret weapon, their fans worked very well and snatched the title right out from under our legs.

During softball season, the spectators are there to spectate, relax after class and just enjoy themselves. Sometimes those we believe to be spectators are actually spectators, but not of the sport on the field or the court. Sometimes the spectators are there to see others who came to see others at the game. Don't believe it? Ask someone sitting at a game who seems to be having fun and ask either who's playing or what's the score. More than half the time the person sitting there won't know the answer to either question.

Well, well, spectators, who needs 'em? We Do!!!

ACTIVITIES

Arts and Lectures Series

When the Arts and Lectures' committee promised us great moments in live performances this year, no one expected them to come through with such an excellent array of talent. Headed by Dr. Lucille Lacy, the Lyceum committee put together a series of programs for all three quarters. The broad spectrum of world renowned artists ranged from vocalist to magicians. Little did we know we were in for a treat.

The opening performer was the very talented sculptor, Alan Collins. He held the audience in spellbound attention as he transformed a lump of clay from a newborn baby to a dying old man. He then thrilled us all as he once again transformed the man to a new life at the return of Jesus Christ. Collins, a native of England, now teaches in the art department at Loma Linda University.

Also on the staff at LLU is Dorothy Minohin-Comm, Collins' accompanyist. Comm also wrote the orations that were read by several students and faculty from Oakwood while Collins worked.

From a totally different angle came the powerful orator, Patricia Russell-McCloud. Her penetrating speech stirred all. This dynamic speaker motivated everyone who heard her to do something with our lives and make a difference. We were truly privileged to be able to hear this great speaker.

Steve Varro, Illusionist/Lecturer, came from Southern California and changed all of our views about magic. He brought to us the Christian side of magic. One example of his magic is his rope trick in which he has three ropes of varying lengths. He tells us that the ropes represent people, but in God's sight (he transforms the ropes to all the same length) we're all the same. Varro's "Gospel Magic" was not only fun, but also inspiring.

As if that was not enough, we were soon to be enlightened by a visit from the New York Harp Ensemble. The Ensemble has traveled to the Republic of China, Africa, Australia, and Huntsville.

World acclaimed vocalist, William Warfield also made a stop in Huntsville this winter. His wide assortment of achievements include NBC-TV Hallmark Hall of Fame, "The Green Pastures", Broadway hit, "Call Me Mister" and the musical "Showboat". Warfield's baritone voice rang throughout Moran Hall, thrilling all that heard.

The Steel Bandits is a youthful, Caribbean-style steel-drum band from Perry, Georgia. The seven members of this family group travel and play together day after day. The group's performance here was enjoyed by those who heard them and was much talked about afterward.

A very entertaining lyceum was presented by David Syrotiak's National Marionette Theatre. The National Marionette Theatre has been in existence for 30 years. Under the direction of David Syrotiak, this remarkable company tours coast to coast each season with programs for adults as well as children. In addition to their national tours, the company also tours Europe every other year. David Syrotiak's exquisitely carved marionettes travel over 45,000 miles and perform more than 200 times each season. They have toured extensively in the U.S., Mexico,

Canada and Europe. Watching the marionettes go through their routines was very entertaining and exciting to see. In seeing the marionettes move, their actions were so humanlike that it seemed as if we were watching actual people. The program was both enjoyed by young and old and would be more than welcome to come and perform again.

Friends

Natural Chic

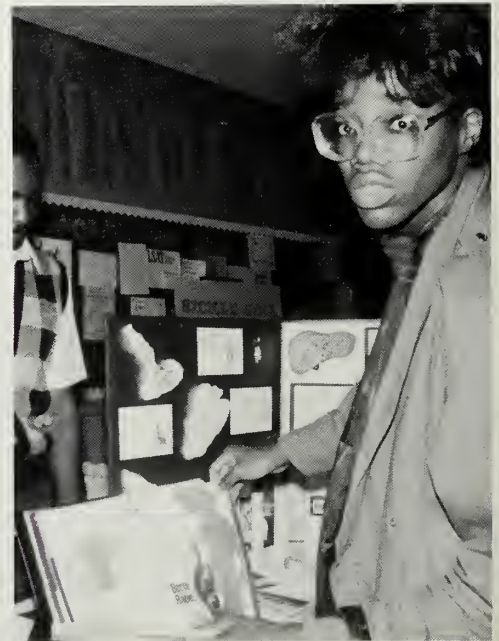

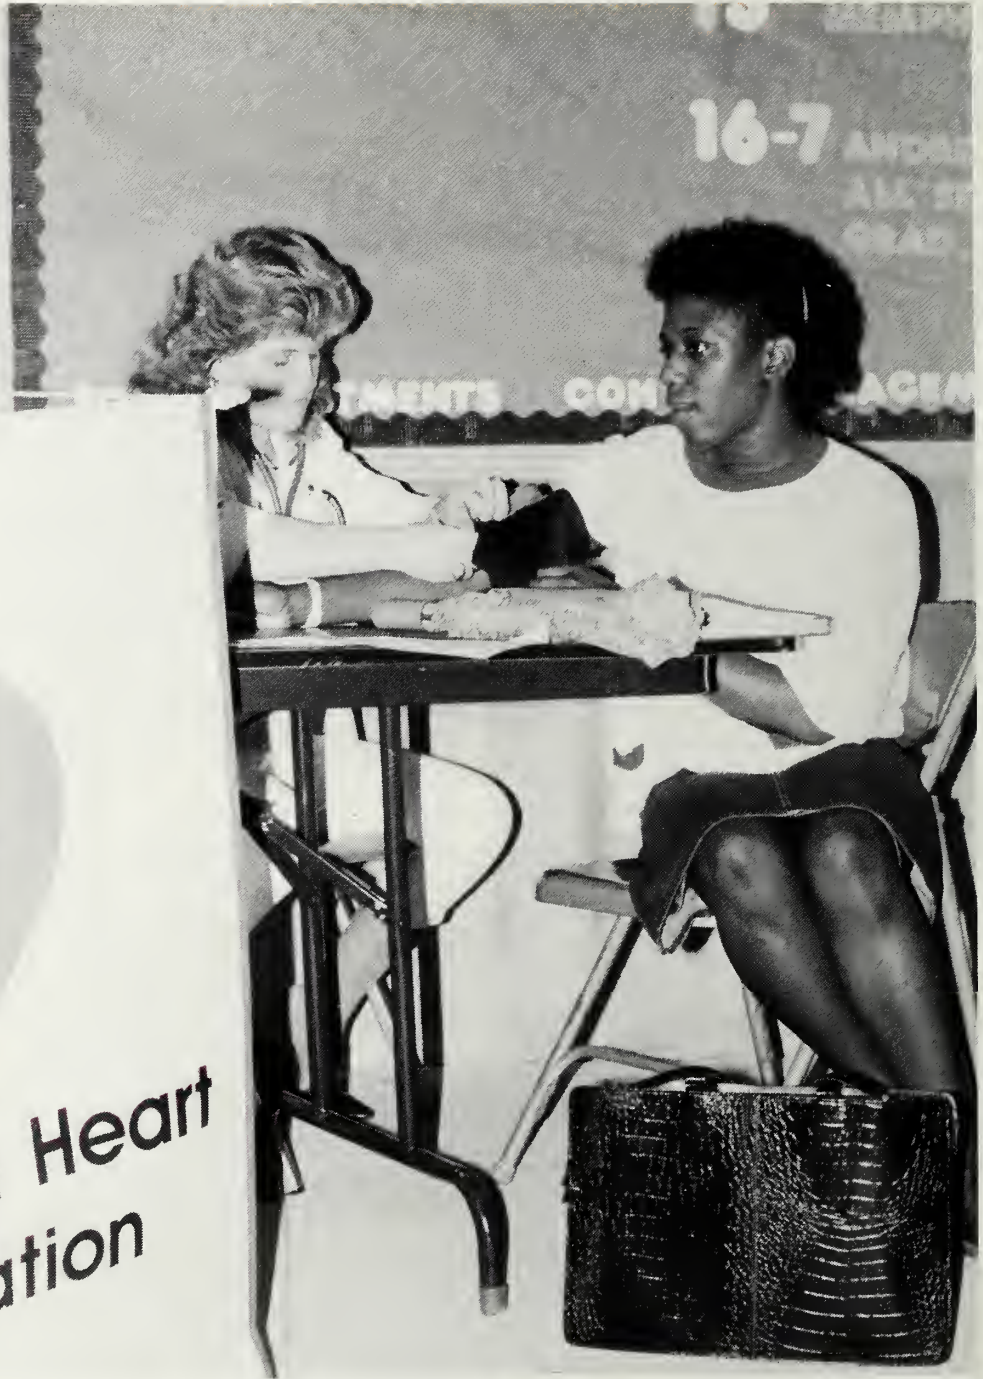

Bringing fashion, flair and excitement to Oakwood College students, the fashion troupes Friends and Natural Chic exhibited a variety of clothing styles during the year in a number of fashion shows.

The group Friends, headed by Wendy Bridgers and Angela Farrington provided two entertaining shows heightened with an aura of mystery and vivaciousness. These shows are two that will long be remembered.

Performing shows for both Oakwood and a special request appearance at Alabama A&M University, the troupe Natural Chic, headed by Edwin Lightbourne and Leslie Anderson, presented fashion at its best.

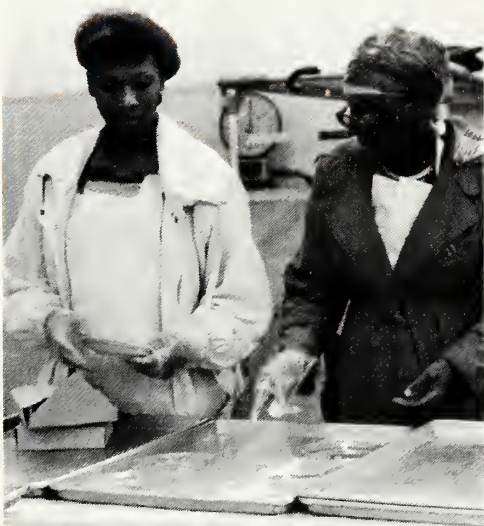

Unifying the student body through entertainment, presenting fashion and excitement with familiarity, the groups Friends and Natural Chic have left the year 1986-87 one to be remembered.

Thanksgiving—X-mas Dinner

Valentine's Banquet

Alvin Chea and Carmela Monk were the emcees for the event which was held in "The Ashby". It was exquisitely "restored" for the special occasion, a chandelier suspended from the ceiling nestled with streamers all around was an attractive decoration. The tone was strategically set and put one in a "New York state of mind".

Faculty members served as waiters and waitresses while students provided entertainment. The men were refined and the ladies elegant as they dined together in the name of love. A pleasurable time was had by all. The social committee did an excellent job!

Alumni Weekend AYS

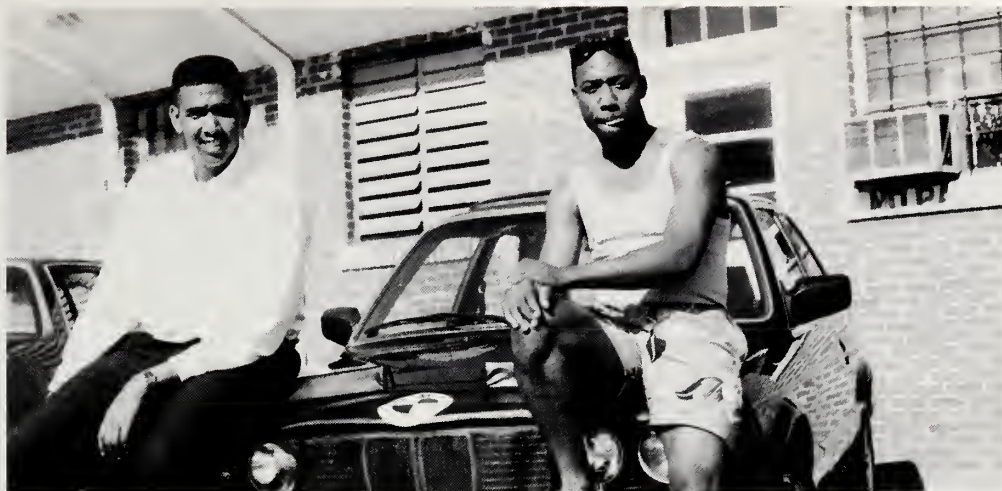

Hubbard

Hubbard

An integral part of Oakwood College is Alumni Weekend. The equivalent to homecoming at other schools, Alumni Weekend at Oakwood is a time when old alumni and new alumni, old and new friends get together. This year's alumni weekend celebration included, the crowning of Miss UNCF—Dawn Lewis, CBS's 60 Minutes, Ed Bradley as banquet speaker with Clifton Davis as emcee, the traditional AYS concert, a special talk given by Tony Brown, a concert by Commissioned and the regular Sabbath services along with much reunion and reminiscence with friends throughout the whole weekend.

Do You Remember?

Graduation 1987

It is a dream of many parents to have their child earn a college degree. Despite the financial difficulties involved in accomplishing this goal, on the 31st of May the dream became a reality.

Speakers came from miles away, each with a message of importance. Elder Malcolm Phipps, Elder Richard Barron, Dr. Marguerite Dixon and Mayor Richard Arrington were all good speakers. In addition to these commencement speakers, we had some of "our own". Mark Cooper, president of the Nursing class, and Carmela Monk, president of the Senior class, each spoke about things each member of the class could relate to. Before receiving their degrees, the class triumphantly stood together and sang "I Have Come Too Far To Turn Back Now", embracing each other for what might have been the last time.

May God be with you, Class of 1987 as you go out and face the great unknown.

Best Wishes

Editor's Note

Hi everyone! I hope that you've enjoyed this year's edition of the ACORN. I hope that this yearbook will be one that you'll always treasure, one that you'll read again and again, one that you'll be proud to call yours.

A lot of hard work and dedication was put into these pages, in spite of the many obstacles that were encountered. Without the help of some very special and dedicated staff members and friends, we wouldn't have what we do have here now. I want to especially thank Jenee Bowman, Debby Small and Sheila Dandridge for their unfailing help on the classes section. Other members of the staff I want to thank are: Eddie Curry, Monica Smith, Robert Blake, Bryan Minor, Lisa Washington, Edwin Lightbourne, Karl McCleary, Tanya Simril, Mark Cooper, Yvette Hackett, Dwain Wallace, Tina Scurry, Renee Higgs, Chris Mattox (EMIII), Andrea McCullough, Ardis Morton, Charmaine Blake, Tamiko Molet, Sabrina Carter, Regina Bradford, Lanita McDonald and Lisa James. Thanks to Byron Phillips for class portraits.

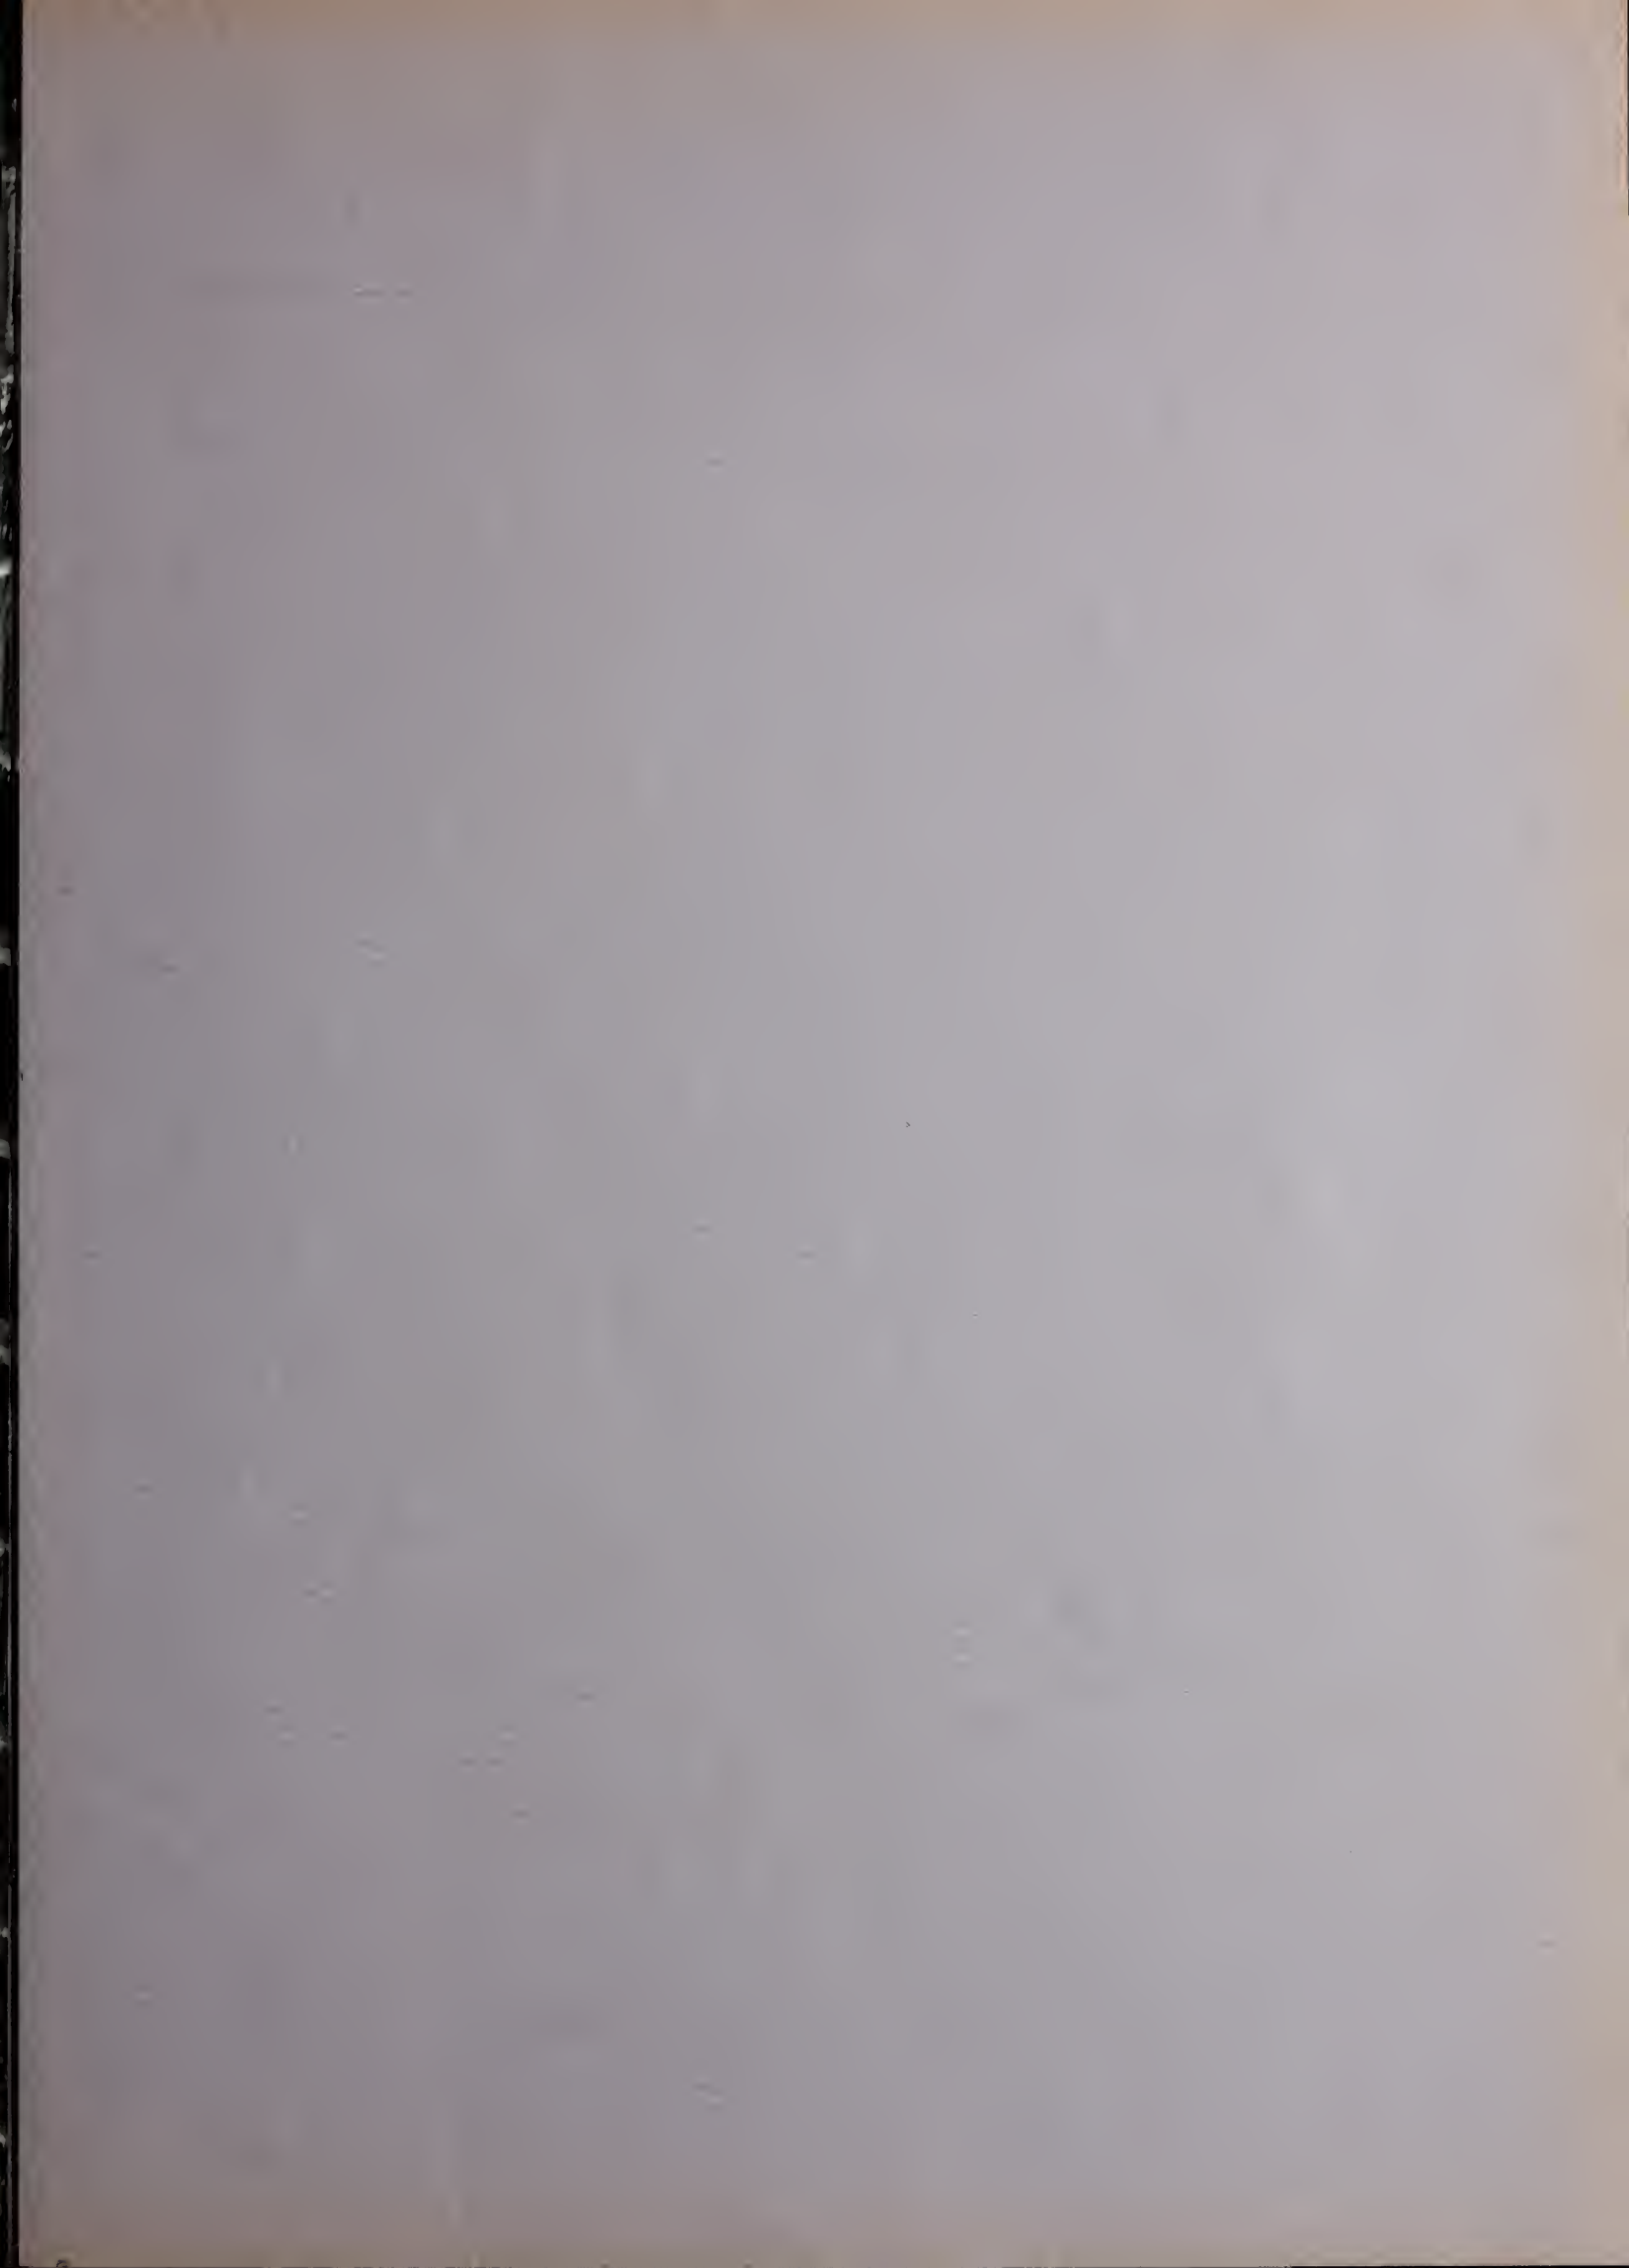

I would also like to thank Wes Chism, Michael Hubbard, Dr. Jannith Lewis and Carmela Monk for their timely, "in a clutch" help. Last but not least, I want to thank all of you who were concerned and unselfish enough to help make this a successful yearbook by getting photos taken (portraits, candid, group shots, etc.).

Once again, thanks and enjoy!

Sincerely,

Fred L. Goodman, Jr.
